

Eugene Mahon is a Training and Supervising analyst on the faculty of child analysis and adult analysis at the Columbia Center for Psychoanalytic Training and Research in New York. He is a member of the International Psychoanalytic Association, The American Psychoanalytic Association, The Association for Child Psychoanalysis, The New York Freudian Society, The Center for Advanced Psychoanalytic Studies, Princeton. He has published many articles on a wide variety of subjects, such as, screen memories, childhood mourning, several papers on dreams, Shakespeare, Coleridge, Anna Freud, the evolution of psychoanalytic technique, the invention of Purgatory, humor and aesthetics. He has also published a number of "psychoanalytic" plays on Freud-Fliess, Freud-Shakespeare, Freud- Vitruvius, Bion-Beckett, Sigmund and Anna at the Rue Royale, In the Company of Ghosts (a psychoanalytic" spin-off of Waiting for Godot). His psychoanalytic fable "Rensal The Redbit" was enthusiastically reviewed in the Psychoanalytic Quarterly. His poem Wild Strawberries (in honor of Anna Freud) was published in the Bulletin of the Hampstead Clinic. His poem "Steeds of Darkness" set to music by the renowned American composer Miriam Gideon was performed at Symphony Space in New York and is available in A Miriam Gideon Retrospective, New World Records 1990.