

About the Encyclopedia of American Jewish History

Virtually every aspect of American culture has been profoundly influenced by Jewish immigrants and their descendants. Spanning more than three and a half centuries of immigration, adaptation, and achievement, Encyclopedia of American Jewish History examines the Jewish experience in the United States like no other work before it. It is the first comprehensive reference work dedicated to exploring the impact of American Jews on the nation, and the nation on the Jews.

Encyclopedia of American Jewish History explores the entire range of the American Jewish experience: immigration, settlement, religion, politics, organizations, newspapers, work, sports, literature, art, music, film, theater, comics, television, and much more. It includes profiles of significant figures and neighborhoods, as well as articles analyzing social, economic, demographic, and cultural trends, and Jews' relations with other groups. Essays cover antisemitism, Zionism, America's response to the Holocaust, and the shaping of American Jewish identities. The articles are written by eminent scholars in a wide range of fields from the United States, Israel, Europe, and Canada.

About the Authors

Stephen H. Norwood, Ph.D., Columbia University, is professor of history and Judaic studies at the University of Oklahoma. His published works include Strikebreaking & Intimidation, Labor's Flaming Youth, and Real Football, and articles in American Jewish History, Modern Judaism, and Studies in Contemporary Jewry. He is a member of the Academic Council of the David S. Wyman Institute for Holocaust Studies.

Eunice G. Pollack, Ph.D., Columbia University, teaches history and Jewish studies at the University of North Texas. Her published works include The Childhood We Have Lost: When Siblings Were Caregivers, 1900-1970. She is a member of the Academic Council of the David S. Wyman Institute for Holocaust Studies.

Print: 8/2007 • © 2008 • EAN 978-1-85109-638-1 • 2 Vols • $195.00 • 808pp. eBook is available. Please call (800)368-6868 for pricing.

Press Contact:

Elizabeth Marotta, 805-968-1911 ext. 346, emarotta@abc-clio.com