
Contributors

Mark Blechner is Training and Supervising Analyst at the William Alanson White Institute of Psychoanalysis and is also on the faculties of New York University and the Manhattan Institute for Psychoanalysis. He is a member of the editorial board of Contemporary Psychoanalysis and is in private practice in New York City. He is the author of The Dream Frontier.

Philip M. Bromberg is a Training and Supervising Analyst and Faculty Member, William Alanson White Institute, and Clinical Professor of Psychology at the New York University Postdoctoral Program. Dr. Bromberg is an Associate Editor of Psychoanalytic Dialogues and Contemporary Psychoanalysis, and on the editorial boards of Psychoanalytic Inquiry and The Journal of the American Academy of Psychoanalysis. He is author of Standing in the Spaces: Essays on Clinical Process, Trauma, and Dissociation.

Steven Ellman is Training and Supervising Analyst and President-Elect, Institute for Psychoanalytic Training and Research, New York; President of the Independent Psychoanalytic Societies of the United States. He is the author (with James Antrobus) of The Mind in Sleep and the editor (with Michael Moskowitz) of Freud's Technique Papers: Toward a New Approach to the Therapeutic Relationship.

Elsa First is Associate Clinical Professor of Psychology, New York University Postdoctoral Program in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis.

James Fosshage is Clinical Professor of Psychology, New York University; Cofounder and Board Director, National Institute for the Psychotherapies, New York; and founding faculty member, Institute for the Psychoanalytic Study of Subjectivity, New York. He has coauthored (with Clemens Loew) Dream Interpretation: A Comparative Study, Revised Edition and (with Joseph Lichtenberg) A Spirit of Inquiry.

Robert Gillman is Training and Supervising Analyst, Baltimore–Washington Psychoanalytic Institute and the New York Freudian Society; a Supervising Child Analyst at the Cleveland Psychoanalytic Institute. He has written on children's dreams, dreams of pregnancy, and defenses in dreams.

Marianne Goldberger is Training and Supervising Analyst, New York University Psychoanalytic Institute; Professor of Clinical Psychiatry, New York University Medical Center. She is on the editorial board of the Psychoanalytic Quarterly.

Ruth Imber is Training and Supervising Analyst, faculty member, and fellow at the William Alanson White Institute. She is on the editorial board of Contemporary Psychoanalysis.

Ernest Kafka is Training and Supervising Analyst, New York Psychoanalytic Institute, Associate Clinical Professor, Cornell–New York Hospital. He has published papers on examination dreams and dyslexia in clinical analytic work.

Melvin Lansky is Volume Editor, Symposium 2000; Training and Supervising Analyst, Los Angeles Psychoanalytic Institute; Clinical Professor, UCLA School of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry. He is the author (with Carol Bley) of Posttraumatic Nightmares: Psychoanalytic Explorations and the editor of Essential Papers on Dreams.

Paul Lippmann is Training and Supervising Psychoanalyst, William Alanson White Psychoanalytic Institute, New York; faculty member, New York University Postdoctoral Program in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis; Director of Nocturnes: On Listening to Dreams. He is in private practice in Stockbridge, Massachusetts.

Edward Nersessian is Training and Supervising Analyst, New York Psychoanalytic Institute, Clinical Associate Professor, Weill Cornell Medical College. He is coeditor of Neuro-Psychoanalysis.

Edna O'Shaughnessy is Training Analyst, British Psychoanalytical Society; Supervisor for Child and Family, Tavistock Clinic, London.

Mervyn Peskin is a faculty member, New York Psychoanalytic Institute; Clinical Associate Professor at the Weill Cornell Medical Center.

Sydney Pulver is Training and Supervising Analyst, Psychoanalytic Center of Philadelphia; Clinical Professor of Psychiatry, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Ellen Rees is Training and Supervising Analyst, Columbia Center for Psychoanalytic Training and Research; Clinical Associate Professor of Psychiatry, New York Weill Cornell Medical Center. She is on the editorial board of the Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association.

Morton Reiser is the Albert E. Kent Professor of Psychiatry Emeritus, Yale University School of Medicine; Training and Supervising Analyst, Western New England Institute of Psychoanalysis. He is the author of Mind, Brain, Body: Toward a Convergence of Psychoanalysis and Neurobiology and Memory in Mind and Brain: What Dream Imagery Reveals.

Owen Renik is Training and Supervising Analyst, San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institute; Editor-in-Chief of the Psychoanalytic Quarterly; and Program Chair, American Psychoanalytic Association.

Howard Shevrin is Professor of Psychology, Departments of Psychiatry and Psychology at the University of Michigan; a member of the Michigan Psychoanalytic Society. His research has mainly been devoted to the investigation of unconscious processes employing psychodynamic, cognitive, and neurophysiologic methods.

Mark Solms is editor and translator, Complete Neuroscientific Works of Sigmund Freud (4 volumes) and also the revised Standard Edition of the Complete Psychological Works of Sigmund Freud (24 volumes). He is author of the Neuropsychology of Dreams and Coeditor of the journal Neuro-Psychoanalysis, an interdisciplinary journal for psychoanalysis and the neurosciences. He is an associate member of the British Psychoanalytical Society and honorary member of the New York Psychoanalytic Society; Lecturer in neurosurgery at Saint Bartholomew's Hospital and the Royal London Hospital.