

CALLING ALL POETS:

I'm delighted to tell you that I have a grant from the American Psychoanalytic Foundation to edit and write an introduction for an anthology of poems dealing with Freud and psychoanalysis. The title of the book is Climate of Opinion: Sigmund Freud in Poetry, and it will be published in early 2017 by IP Books.

If you would like to submit up to five or six poems, either unpublished or previously published, for consideration, please mail them (yes, postal mail), together with your complete contact information, a brief bio and citations for published poems to:

Irene Willis
Poetry Editor
International Psychoanalysis
P.O. Box 217
South Egremont, MA 01258

Do NOT include SASE.

I will respond to you by e-mail as quickly as possible. If your poem or poems is/are accepted, I will request that you send copies as e-mail attachments. You will receive a small payment, (approximately $25-100) for each poem, as we get closer to publication.

Since several calls like this are going out, your cover letter telling us where you received the information will be most welcome.

The deadline is flexible, but we would like to have all submissions by December 1, 2016.
